Quarter Break Zoom Calls aka Colorado Connects

These are conversational, member-led, informal Zoom sessions

Senior Planet might be pausing our programs now that our fall quarter is done, but we are keeping the conversation going while we prepare for our winter quarter. This is not a lecture or presentation. These open sessions are for people to connect with one another by sharing stories, anecdotes, companionship, and fun group projects during this holiday season. All are welcome to join this group and become part of the Lunch and Learn members are doing at the usual 11:30 start time!

KEY IDEAS

- If you are interested in presenting during these sessions, please email any of the volunteers listed below. We will be focusing on sharing stories and getting to know each other starting next week.
- We also will be working on an everyone's-a-star (all participation) radio play for fun. If you have an old-time radio script, or idea you'd like to suggest, please bring it up during next week's sessions as we'll be talking about this, and more. A name was suggested for the group "The Lunchables". Here's a quick logo I created for fun.

- People are also interested in maybe having weekend sessions as well for those who want to connect during those days over the holidays. Please share your suggestions and thoughts on this. We are also checking to see if someone has a paid Zoom account, to maybe volunteer to be the weekend Zoom call host. We will also be looking for co-host volunteers for both weekday and weekend sessions. Dave, Paul, and I (Monyett) are all available to do one-on-one Zoom training for anyone who wants additional help, outside of the practice we'll be doing during our Zoom calls.
